Hollywood Heartbreak

When he first showed up in Los Angeles, acting was a part-time gig. Brad Pitt was a college dropout with only $325 in his pocket. He spent his time at the famous coffee house on Sunset Boulevard, Mel’s Diner. He found work as a waiter and later as a bartender. In 1986, after he graduated from college, he moved to Hollywood. He started working in small parts, hoping to break into the big time. He was eventually cast in a minor role in the movie "9 1/2 Weeks," which helped him land roles in bigger projects.

50 Degrees

Nick Loeb was studying sports medicine at college in Ohio and then moved to Los Angeles to pursue his interest in music. He met the singer she met the young female singer, who was also a fan of his. They started dating and eventually got engaged. However, when they got married, Nick left the music industry to focus on his family.

America’s Top Tyra

Tyra Banks, who turns 53 on December 4, has embraced being a mom, wife, and entrepreneur. She’s the founder and CEO of the Tyra Banks Foundation, which supports girls’ education and leadership. She also hosts the popular talk show, "The Tyra Banks Show," and is a judge on the popular reality show, "America’s Next Top Model." She continues to inspire women around the world with her success.

A Stand Up Guy

In the late 1980s, when Kathy Najimy was just starting out in comedy, she got a job at Beanpole Chicago, an American comedy club in Amsterdam. One night, her friend (and fellow comedian) Lenny Bruce arrived. Bruce took an interest in Najimy and offered to help her with her act. Najimy later said that Bruce was a "real mentor" to her.

Shelton Style

Holly Hunter was born for "pears" and trained by a single mom in a hipsy community outside of Ontario, Canada. Shania Twain was discovered as a child in a dance studio at age 15. The supermodel, who turns 56 on December 13, has hosted "The Hills Is Where the Heart Is" with Taylor Swift. She’s also starred in the movies "Chicago" and "Mean Girls." Her younger brother, comedian Jack McBrayer, appeared on "SNL," which directly opposite "SNL." Najimy met his wife, actress Ada Maris, at the wedding of the "Three Stooges" star, Shelly Koffman (Ada’s sister worked in the set department at MBC). Shania Twain married "Shelby Bailey," the father of her two children, in her home state of Tennessee.

Adult 50+: The slowly dominant demographic is responsible for 25% of consumer spending. Heally, he makes consumers marketers with them better than AARP Media Advertising Network.

We are the right brand to reach the right audience in the right time. When you invest in our media, your gain access to our highly-effective channels, including AARP Magazine, AARP Bulletin and AARP.org, and our consultation of our media solutions experts where one gain in key to maintaining your advertising success.

November/December 2023

1. Hollywood Heartbreak
2. 50 Degrees
3. America’s Top Tyra
4. A Stand Up Guy
5. Shelton Style

November/December 2023

1. Hollywood Heartbreak
2. 50 Degrees
3. America’s Top Tyra
4. A Stand Up Guy
5. Shelton Style