4 Reasons Why the RV Lifestyle Is Perfect for Adults 50+

The open road is calling. Here's why you should answer.

by Go RVing

After years of building your career and growing your family, your 50s and beyond are a time to focus on what you want out of life. For many adults, that means exploring new horizons, creating lasting family memories, or simply taking a well-deserved break. The secret to having it all is your retirement year? It's simple. Take advantage of the RV lifestyle, which allows you the freedom to take your home on the road. Here's why RVing is perfect for adults over 50 and why you should consider getting the open road.

Snowbirds Rejoice
Instead of shuffling through winter, why not try the RV life for a season? Long-term RV sites offer many amenities, like laundry facilities, hot showers, access, parks, playgrounds, and opportunities to socialize with fellow guests. Repair or maintenance services are often available to keep your RV running efficiently. So when you're ready to hit the road again, your vehicle is like new. Some RV sites are 50+ only for an even more peaceful vacation.

*Your wallet will appreciate this lifestyle, too! Long-term RV sites are a budget-friendly alternative to spending money on an expensive rental in a warm location. Just think of how much you'll save when you cook for yourself, own your own gear, and find entertainment on the great outdoors!

Pets Are Always Welcome
For many animal lovers, making sure there's a safe place for their four-legged friend to stay is a major barrier to travel. Long-term RVing is a responsive, easy solution that allows pets to travel, and pet services often aren't available for long-term stays.

With RVing, you don't have to choose between Fido and a few extra days on the road. You can count on us being on your side, keeping your pet's needs in mind for the trip. In fact, some campgrounds even have dog parks to help welcome your pet to the RV! But your pet will happily adjust to an exciting new lifestyle with new trails to walk and plenty of access to being loved.

Family Vacations Made Easy
No more struggling to find a home that fits everyone's budget or the perfect vacation rental that has enough beds for all. With RVing, you can bring the gang along for the adventure of a lifetime!

*Your whole family can easily come together to create lifelong memories, learn to swim, with the great outdoors in your backyard. Take the grandkids to see the Grand Canyon. Meet up with extended family at a large campground for dinner-making and stargazing. Whenever your RV takes you, and everyone sees the best.

Flexibility and Affordability
RV models have come a long way. Today, there's an RV model for every kind of traveler. Whether you're an outdoor lover taking an extended road trip through the national parks or a weekend ready to settle in for a season, there's an RV model for your needs, comfort level, and budget. From camper vans and Class A motorhomes to Four Winds and Toy Haulers, you're sure to find the perfect RV for you.

The best part? Your RV will pay for your miles. Want to stop on extra days? No problem – and no hassle arguing with a hotel booking manager. Want to change plans at the last minute to follow an interesting road? Go for it without worrying about whether you're ruining your timeline.

RV vacations can also come up to 40% less than a comparable hotel and car vacation for a couple, while still allowing you the freedom to explore. With the money you'll save, you can use on the road (beer or coffee) or one of a kind experiences during your journey. Plus, a little bit of extra cash helps you keep your fuel costs down for things like gas and maintenance.

For adults over 50, RVing is a flexible, family-friendly lifestyle that creates memories to last a lifetime. All it takes is a bit of legs, a bit of luck, and the right RV for you.
